Navid's Happy Update!

Navid came to PUP as a "normal" pup, with no medical issues noted back in March. However, it turned out that Navid had a liver shunt.

Thanks to his original fosters, they saw unusual signs and alerted me and our vets immediately. Navid ended up staying at Companion Animal Hospital for a while so they could stabilize him enough to go home. Once he was stable enough, he went into another foster home to help build up his system, readying it for surgery. We needed to get this boy healthy!

Dr. Ritchie and Dr. Okrasinski, or EB as we call him (he does the majority of our specialist surgeries), discounted their fees to make surgery possible for our little rescue and our little rescue pup. With the help of our donors, we were able to raise funds to pay for much of Navid's medical costs, with PUP taking up the rest. Together, we made it happen!

The great news? Navid's bloodwork came back NORMAL! He is right where he should be without being a liver shunt pup. As you can imagine, we are elated that this little foster pup is doing so well after three months of intensive care. Great work all!

Raven & Winston's Happy Tail

Dear PUP - Attached is a current photo of Winston and Raven on their first birthday, April 17th. We brought them to their forever home last July. We first met them when they were 4 days old and had just opened their eyes. There were four males and one female in the litter. We wanted the female and one of the males. Raven, the female was black and we wanted Goose who was white, but were told that we would get the male that bonded best with Raven. That turned out to be Finch whom we renamed Winston when we brought him home. They are two very loving and happy dogs and are inseparable. They get very upset whenever they are separated even for just a short time and don't like it at all when we have to go out and leave them home. Thanks PUP!

Penny's Happy Tail

Hi Laura - You guys are doing great work. I'm amazed to hear that there are so many more shelter kittens in CA than here.

Penny (previously Twilight) is a wonderful kitten. Full of life and loves to play, but also loves to snuggle which both of us like. Just like our other cat (Debit, 15 year old domestic shorthair) she seems to think she is a person. We think Penny was meant to be for us - she looks like she could be Debit's little sister and acts like it too.

Deb is still getting used to having a "little sister" who wants to play all the time. The relationship is still evolving but getting better every day. Penny on the left and Debit enjoying the sun. Thanks!

- Jim
