Tribute to Gayle Sutton

Gayle Sutton, wife, mother, friend, and PUP family member, passed away on March 28th after a long fight with cancer. Cancer didn't win every battle though, Gayle did. Cancer was supposed to take her life years ago, but she wouldn't allow it. She showed us what it really means to fight. I asked her once what she hated most about cancer. She didn't say the pain, the time spent in treatment, or feeling sick from treatment. It was the loss of time. Time yet to be spent with her husband Max, her two sons and their families, and all of the dogs she had yet to save.

Gayle lived her life to the fullest, taking care of all those she cared about and loved. She was, as one of our volunteers put it, a PUP icon. She represented all we stand for as a rescue, and more.

Gayle fostered over 80 dogs here at PUP. She was the first to raise her hand to foster a dog off of our shelter transport list. If there was an old dog, a medical needs pup, or a mom and puppies waiting to get in, she'd raise two hands. She took care of each and every one with the love and care she showed to all of us.

As she walked into adoption events, I'd stand back and watch the faces of other PUP volunteers light up around her, hugs and hellos all around. Initially she was also our PUP greeter at events, ensuring the visiting public had what they needed. She'd answer their questions, representing PUP and what we do here to the highest of standards. This was all done with that warm glow she had for all of us. Toward the end she would still come, even for a short time, to say hello and make sure her latest foster pup got exposure at our event.

PUP sends a big thank you to all of

We just wanted to you know that Lucy (we have renamed her Ella) is fitting in really well with our family and having a great time. She's sleeping well in her crate, is progressing with potty and other training, and best of all, she seems really happy with us and we with her. Thanks again for all your help finding a new family member for us!

Ella loves to show the ducks and geese at Seward Park who the boss is.

She loves a hike. We call her the "Circus Dog" because she loves to jump up on stumps and logs everywhere along the trails.

Navid is an adorable young pup who came to us from a shelter in California. When dogs come off the transport van, they are often bewildered, scared, and very malnourished. This is what living on the streets or in a home without proper care can do to them. We often ask ourselves how in the world a sweet pup like this could end up as a stray or in the shelter. In this case we think we may have found the answer.

Our vets have diagnosed Navid with a liver shunt. This is a condition where the normal flow of blood, to and through the liver, is markedly reduced or absent. Ultrasound and surgery, although costly, provides the best chance for a long, healthy life in most dogs with this condition. We've been here before with another dog named Sweetums. We opted for surgery and it was extremely successful. She's now living the good life with her owner; going on trail walks, being an "office assistant" during the day, playing with her dog buddies, and more. She is loved and adored, and it was all made possible through your thoughts, prayers, and generous donations.

We have a motto at PUP, "Put the challenge before us and we'll meet it." We are asking for you to join us, so together we can help Navid meet the challenge facing him now. Our combined efforts will enable us to provide this sweet, innocent little pup with the same chance we gave to Sweetums.
